He Whai Taumaru Leaving to Learn

*Ki te tī, ki te tā, ki te katoa
Anyone, anytime, anywhere*

Connecting with your hapori (community)

At Te Kura, we believe learning can happen anywhere – not just in the classroom. Ākonga (students) can have great learning experiences while spending time in their community or with their whānau.

We call this Leaving to Learn – learning outside of school.

Leaving to Learn activities can be face-to-face or online, and may include:

- undertaking projects based on their interests and passions
- talking with mentors and experts in their community
- participating in sporting and cultural activities
- attending local events
- taking part in youth and community groups
- shadowing whānau members
- volunteering.

Exploring your interests

With support from Te Kura, ākonga can participate in activities that relate to an area of their interest. These activities are an important part of their learning journey.

Ākonga can:

- identify topics they are interested in or would like to learn more about
- keep track of their Leaving to Learn activities
- record their dreams and goals
- reflect on their progress
- share their thoughts with kaiako (teachers) and whānau.

Your support network

We can help you and your ākonga to build a strong support network as they work towards their learning goals:
